

Dyson Richards
Executive Vice President
RGS

Dyson's main responsibility is leading the growth of RGS. He has extensive experience leading strategic marketing and business development efforts and facilitating the achievement of corporate objectives for IT and professional services firms. Dyson has been an instrumental player in transforming RGS from a small, founder-led firm into an established mid-sized company.

Dyson began his career in the Navy where he specialized in operating ship-board nuclear power plants. For three years, Dyson called the USS Enterprise home. After 8½ years of service, Dyson transitioned to the private sector, where he's leveraged his Navy roots in the government services industry ever since. Dyson earned his BS from The New School and an MS in Technology Management from the University of Maryland. Dyson leads the Smart Contracting Working Group for the Professional Services Council and is a member of the Board of Directors.

A native of Rockville, MD, Dyson met his wife, Michelle, while he was stationed at the Nuclear Power Training Unit in upstate New York. Their son is an actor in New York City and their daughter attends Clemson University.
