

George DelPrete is a principal with Grant Thornton and leads Grant Thornton's Information Technology Service Line. For over twenty years, he has helped executives solve complex business and technology challenges and helped transform organizations through the smart use of technology. George advises clients in Federal and commercial strategy and technology consulting, portfolio and investment review, design of acquisition and investment strategies for new technology initiatives, development and implementation of shared services and cost savings strategies, and improved discipline in designing, developing and implementing technology. He is a frequent speaker on Federal IT issues. George has testified before Congress on Federal IT Reform and taught more than 200 Federal staff on shared services, portfolio, and capital planning and investment control. George served as Vice Chair for the TechAmerica Federal Committee, is on the Board for the Association of Federal Information Resources Management, and is Chair for the Federal Chief Information Officer (CIO) survey. He holds certifications in scrum and IT Infrastructure Library (ITIL). Before joining Grant Thornton, George held leadership roles for Touchstone Consulting, Cyveillance and Coopers and Lybrand. George began his career as a program manager for the Air Force Civil Engineer Support Agency. He graduated from St. Lawrence University. A native of New England, George now lives in Northern VA with his wife and 3 Children.