

 United States Navy
Biography →

LIEUTENANT COMMANDER ADAM GUNTER
TRAINING WITH INDUSTRY MILITARY FELLOW
THE HOME DEPOT

LCDR Adam Gunter, a native of Arcadia, FL, graduated with distinction from the University of Florida with a Bachelor of Science degree in Business Management and earned his commission through Officer Candidate School in 2005. In 2017, he earned a Master of Business Administration degree from Harvard Business School.

LCDR Gunter's operational assignments include Supply Officer, USS RHODE ISLAND (SSBN 740)(GOLD); Joint Logistics Planner, Combined Joint Task Force - Horn of Africa; and Aviation Supply Officer, USS THEODORE ROOSEVELT. During these tours, he participated in operations Enduring Freedom and Inherent Resolve.

Ashore, LCDR Gunter has served as the Aide-de-Camp to the Director, Defense Logistics Agency, Fort Belvoir, VA and as an Operational Logistics Intern on the Joint Staff Logistics Directorate, Washington, DC.

Gunter reported as the 12th Home Depot Training With Industry Military Fellow in June 2017. In this highly-selective program, he is charged with analyzing the operations of a recognized industry leader in global supply chain and distribution management.

LCDR Gunter has been awarded the Defense Meritorious Service Medal, Joint Service Commendation Medal, Navy Commendation Medal, Joint Service Achievement Medal, Navy Achievement Medal, and various other campaign and unit awards. He is a qualified Naval Aviation, Submarine, and Surface Warfare Supply Corps Officer and was awarded the 2008 VADM Robert F. Batchelder Award for significant personal contributions to the supply readiness of operating forces.