

Scott Price
General Manager, National Security Group
Microsoft U.S. Public Sector Services

Scott joined Microsoft in 2014, as the General Manager of the National Security Group (NSG), responsible for the execution and management of solutions and services to Federal clients including the Intelligence Community, the Department of Homeland Security, the Department of Justice and the Department of Energy. With leading offerings in productivity and collaboration tools, using Microsoft's suite of cloud, mobile, CRM and data analytic solutions, Scott and the NSG team are helping their clients more effectively meet their mission requirements.

Before joining Microsoft, Scott spent the previous 7 years as the Vice President and General Manager of the Homeland Security Solutions sector for General Dynamics Information Technology (GDIT). In this capacity, Scott oversaw the strategy, development, and execution of contracts performed by GDIT for the U. S. Department of Homeland Security. In addition, Scott was responsible for GDIT's logistics business for both DoD and civilian agencies, including GD's flagship Supply Chain Management contract with the Department of State - a $2.2B program providing secure technologies to embassies and high threat posts world-wide.

Prior to General Dynamics, Scott worked for Anteon Corporation which was acquired by General Dynamics in June of 2006. At Anteon Corporation, Scott served as the Director of Operations for the Technology Solutions Group, a $450M business unit providing solutions and services for C4I systems, NAVAIR/Joint Systems, and Advanced Credentialing Technologies.

Scott received his Bachelor's Degree in Electrical Engineering from the University of North Carolina, and his Master's Degree in Business Administration from the College of William and Mary. He served as an Advisor to the Homeland Security and Defense Business Council, and President of the Tidewater Association of Service Contractors (TASC). Scott lives in McLean, Virginia with his wife, Maryann, and his two daughters, Emelie and Madeleine.