
G. (Gurvais) Clayton Grigg
Assistant Director
Laboratory Division

G. Clayton Grigg is the Assistant Director of the FBI Laboratory. He is a law enforcement leader with over 21 years of experience in criminal, white collar fraud, counterterrorism and national security investigations, operational and information technology systems and tool development, knowledge management, and supervision of laboratory and deployment of global forensic services. Awards and recognition include the NHCAFA Investigation of the Year, the FBI Director's Award for Outstanding Information Management, the Manual J. Gonzales Ethics Award, and the Presidential Rank Award (Meritorious). He is an Eagle Scout and recipient of the 2016 National Eagle Scout Association Outstanding Eagle Scout Award. He holds a bachelor's degree in biochemistry with a minor in Spanish, along with an advanced certificate and master's degree in homeland security management. Prior to joining the FBI he worked as a stock, bond, and insurance broker.