

D.J. Dart
Business Development Executive, DHS
Unisys Federal

Mr. Dart is an Information Technology consultant with Unisys Corporation who is dedicated to the Department of Homeland Security law enforcement mission to help protect against threats to national security and public safety. He has 21 years of expertise in Information Technology with a concentration in the Department of Homeland Security (DHS) for 14 years. Mr. Dart has overseen DHS enterprise-wide information systems development and deployment spanning Customs and Border Protection, Immigration and Customs Enforcement, and the Cybersecurity and Infrastructure Security Agency (formerly the National Protection and Programs Directorate), among many other DHS Components.

An award winning Service Excellence executive leader, Mr. Dart has led the development and modernization spanning Global Enrollment, biometrics, 911 dispatch, case management and threat analysis. He is dedicated to Human Centered Design that produce solutions optimized for law enforcement. He is a certified Agile Scrum Master and Project Management Professional, and he holds a B.S. in Computer Sciences with Summa Cum Laude honors.